Business comment – Françoise Chombar, CEO:

"After two difficult years in which we faced severe global trade tensions and an unprecedented pandemic, the end of 2020 marked a turning point for Melexis. Despite the numerous challenges that COVID-19 posed, out of adversity came opportunity: next to catering to our valued automotive customers as always, Melexis also tapped into adjacent applications that gained momentum with the COVID-19 outbreak. As a result, we concluded the year with a 4% year-over-year sales growth.

During the fourth quarter, we launched no less than 8 new products, half of which are specifically conceived for adjacent markets such as 2-/3-wheelers, home appliances and products for industrial use. Newly launched automotive products include current sensors, a smart tire sensor and a novel motor driver for mechatronic applications, all of which serve the future car, carbon free and intelligent. Based on 2020 data, we can now state that on average, every new car worldwide carries 13 Melexis chips on board from 11 the year before. All this makes me very proud and excited for the future.

Sales to automotive customers represented 88% of total sales, both in the fourth quarter and in the full year 2020. The portion of standard product (ASSPs) sales represented 70% of total sales in the fourth quarter and 69% in the full year 2020.

At the start of 2021, we are witnessing exceptionally strong order behavior, driven by steep restocking and revived end market demand. This condensed ordering pattern is now causing supply chain and delivery disruptions in parts of the automotive industry, the bullwhip effect in action at warp speed. Having intentionally kept its inventories at a higher than usual level in the past year, Melexis had a head start to cope with this elevated demand.

The 2021 full year sales guidance we provide is built on the one hand on meeting the strong order behavior we see today for the first half of the year, while also remaining cautious about the evolution of end market demand in the second half of the year."

The statutory auditor PwC Bedrijfsrevisoren BV has confirmed that the audit, which is substantially complete, has not to date revealed any material misstatement in the draft consolidated accounts, and that the accounting data reported in the press release is consistent, in all material respects, with the draft accounts from which it has been derived.
